

Glastonbury invites you to Right Tree, Right Place: Arbor Day 2017!

Arbor Day Celebration for Children in Grades 1-6
Wednesday, April 26th
2:00pm - 4:00pm
Welles Turner Library
2407 Main St. Glastonbury

This event will be a wonderful opportunity for children in grades 1-6 to help plant a tree and learn more about the valuable resources our trees contribute to the community and the earth. Activities will be held both outdoors and in the Friends Room of the Library. Refreshments will be provided.

To register, contact the Children's Department of the Library in person or at (860) 652-7718.

Did you know that we can preserve our trees simply by where and how we plant them?

Glastonbury Parks & Recreation and the Welles Turner Library have partnered with Eversource, Energize CT, and Burns & McDonnell to host an Arbor Day Celebration emphasizing the importance of RIGHT TREE, RIGHT PLACE! Many trees don't survive because of conflicts with utilities, sidewalks, or neighboring structures, or simply because they're not designed to thrive in the environment where they've been planted.

In an effort to educate our community on how to preserve our trees, we're inviting Glastonbury children to attend this Arbor Day event! It will begin with a ceremonious tree planting on Main Street, where children will have the opportunity to participate by filling the tree's new home with soil. The group will then head inside to learn more about how trees provide clean air, fresh oxygen, and essential resources for our world!

We hope you'll join us for this Arbor Day Celebration!
